Robinson Crusoe's real desire was to be a sailor. His parents would not let him go because they believed he was still young and there were many dangers at sea. Robinson Crusoe was tired of waiting and decided to run away with his friends on a big ship. One afternoon, high waves crashed on the ship. Robinson remembered all the dangers his parents had talked. Suddenly, a big wave came up and pulled Robinson off the ship and into the water. He swam on and on until he came to an island.

When the sun came up the next day, Robinson looked on the beach but no one was there. He knew that he had to stay on the island alone. He cut down some trees so as to make a house to protect himself against wild animals. Years went by. His clothes became more and more ragged. He made some new clothes from goat skins. After that he made an umbrella to keep the rain and the sun off him. Now, Robinson had been on the island for many years.

At last, Robinson saw a ship coming towards the island. He lit fire to signal the ship. The captain of the ship saw the fire and carried Robinson Crusoe back to England.

He found that the center of attraction was an old man with a performing monkey. the monkey's tricks, he soon discovered, were in no way remarkable. After throwing a few pennies in the dirty hat which the man had placed on the pavement, Robert began to move off along with other members of the crowd. At this point the man suddenly cried loudly, everyone turned to see what had happened. The man was bending over his monkey, which now lay quite still on the pavement. He picked up the lifeless body and hugged it, he began to weep. A young man stepped from the crowd and dropped some money into the hat. Robert and several other people did the same, until the pennies in the hat were covered with silver coins. Meanwhile, the man continued to hold the dead monkey in his arms.

A few months later, Robert came across the old man again in another part of the city. The man had the same monkey. Once again the old man let out a loud cry and picked up the dead monkey and began to weep. The same young man stepped forward and threw some money into the hat. ### VI. READING COMPREHENSION/14 MARKS

READ THE FOLLOWING PASSAGE THEN ANSWER THE QUESTIONS BELOW:

It was a hot summer night. My family were all asleep except me. I was enjoying reading a story about a man who became very rich and famous after a lot of hard work. Suddenly, I heard a noise coming from the kitchen. I immediately thought it was a thief. I got up quickly and walked quietly to the kitchen door. It was my little daughter, Sarah. She was very thirsty. She was looking for a bottle of water in the fridge. She found one on the floor near the fridge. Luckily, I was close to her when she lifted the bottle to her mouth and drank a little. She cried in a choked voice. I looked at the bottle and was horrified to find out that it contained a cleaning chemical. I, at once, put my index finger into her mouth and made her vomit, and then I called the doctor and told him about what had happened and what I had done. He told me not to worry and that she would be all right. Since that time, the poor little girl was always careful when she wanted to drink anything from a bottle. I advised my wife to keep all chemicals and medicines away from children.
