Reading Comprehension& Summary Making

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below.

We are living in an electronic age. The whole world is taking a new turn with every fraction of time. It has given birth to globalization. There are a lot of new means of communication which have made our life so simple and easy going. Mobile phones can be seen as the most used present day phenomenon in this fast growing time. They work on a unique network system which needs no wiring, no fixation and no botheration.

The cell phone was first tested in 1978. The market in Britain alone had grown at a rapid rate to 8.5 million users by 1997. In Japan it is as high as one mobile phone per ten people. However, when the number of users had increased, many new subscribers are low users. In the United Kingdom cable operators are giving five hundred thousand extra subscribers per month. Presently China tops the list of the mobile user countries. India does not lag behind. It is fast approaching to equalize or even supersedes the status of China. When we think over the advantage of a cell phone in comparison to the old rigid telephones, we can say that the greatest advantage of the cell phone is that it can be used anywhere, anytime. It can send a message, store a date. It can function as computer and a whole world in one's hand. By it, update speed of the whole information has become fast. No doubt, it has changed the whole scenario of the world.

The mobile phone has become necessity for today's world. But the new generation is misusing it by distorting its uses. Some innocent people are being exploited through it. MMS, video clippings, picture messaging are some of the ways which are being misused. There should be strict legal procedure against such distortion of this cellular age. One cannot deny the change in life with the change of time but when this change is over-exposed it is called pollution. We must balance these two phenomena in order to create a healthy world.

A) Choose the best completion from a, b, c or d:

1. The best title to this passage is.....
- a. Mobile Phones                      b. Globalization                      c. Communication                      d. Mobile User Countries

VI. Reading Comprehension & Summary Making

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Europe is the second smallest continent, after Australia. Surprisingly, there are 44 countries in Europe. Over 700 million people live in Europe. European ideas are everywhere in the world. You can see examples of European culture, language, and buildings all around the world.

In sports, European soccer is very popular. Soccer teams from Europe have gone to the World Cup finals every year. Many people say that the British, Italian, and Spanish soccer leagues are the world's best. Cycling is also very popular in Europe – especially in France. The Tour de France is the biggest bicycle race in the world.

In industry, Germany makes the most cars in Europe. In fact, if you visit Germany, you can go on a tour of the BMW factory and the Porsche factory in Stuttgart. England is famous for pottery. Flower farming is an important bubbly industry in Holland.

European historical architectures are among the most well-known in the world. One example of a famous architectural structure is called "Stonehenge," in England. Stonehenge has many, very large stones set up in circle sand. Many people think Stonehenge is holy. In addition to Stonehenge, The "Acropolis" in Athens, Greece is also very famous for its architectural structures. The Acropolis is a flat-topped hill, which lies about 150 meters above sea level. The Acropolis is a huge touristsite.

Modern European buildings are also tourist sites. The Eiffel Tower is the fifth tallest building in France. When it was built in 1889, it was the world's tallest building. More than 200,000,000 people have visited the Eiffel Tower since it was built. It is now a symbol of France. The year 2009 marks the 150th birthday of another famous tourist site in Europe: Big Ben. Big Ben is located atop the Westminster Palace in London, England. It is the largest four-faced chiming clock in the world. Chiming clocks are clocks that use bells to make their sound. Big Ben is a universal symbol of the United Kingdom. Reichstag, Berlin, Germany. A huge, shiny glass dome caps, a building that was partially burnt down in 1933. The dome gives visitors walk-around 360-degree views of Berlin's ever-growing sky. The National Library is unlikely to capture hearts and minds but it's still an outrageous sight.
