Comparative and Superlative

Adjective Order

As+ adjective +as

Comparative and Superlative

Comparatives and superlative are special forms of adjectives . They are used to compare two or more things .

We found the comparative and superlative forms of the adjective are formed by following these rules :

Adjective	Comparative	Superlative
One syliable	adj + er	adi + esti
Two syllables ending in- y	adj + er	adi + est
Two syliebles	more + adj	most + adj
Three syllables.	more + adj

Examples :

Adjective	Comparative	Superlative
big-thin-small	bigger - thinner - sm	aller biggest+ thinnest- smallest,

However, there are some adjectives which have irregular comparative and superlative forms, most of them are listed in this table :

- 2. Subordinate Conjunctions :

Subordinating conjunctions: are connectors or conjunctions that connect a dependent (subordinate) clause to an independent (main) clause. There are two patterns (a. and b.) for positioning the dependent clause and therefore two patterns of punctuation.

Position :

Subordinating conjunctions usually positions itself at the start of a subordinate clause. With because it is recommended to identify the REASON and the RESULT first in order to avoid incorrect meaning.

	Subordingting Conjunctions
Resson/Cause / Effect	because / since / due to / as a result
Contrast	while / whereas / in contrast /
Concession (Unexpected)	although / even though / despite / in spite of the fact
Result) for the set of states	that
Addition	moreover / in addition / furthermore
Condition / Result	ifthen / unless / in case that / whether
Time of the second state	whenever / as soon as

This table shows the subordinating conjunctions and their meaning

Examples t

- My father won't send me abroad , unless I get a high GPA .
- He missed classes today because he didn't sleep well yesterday.

If conditional (0,1,2,3)

Zero Conditional

Use

The zero conditional is used to express situations that are always true if something else happens. We can usually replace if by a time clause using 'when'

Form

If + present simple , present simple Present simple + if + present simple (without comma)

Examples :

- 1. If you keep butter in the sun , it melts .
- 2. If you eat too much , you get fat .
- 3. If you take fish out of water , they die .
- 4. If you switch on the AC , the room becomes cold .

First conditional

The first conditional is used to express what will happen if a certain event takes place in the present or future. It's often called the "real" conditional because it is used for real - or possible - situations. These situations take place if a certain condition is met. In the conditional 1 we often use unless which means 'if ... not'.

Form

If + present simple , (will) + Verb (infinitive)

Simple future + if + present simple (without comma)

Examples

- 1. If he finishes the work on time, we will get our money immediately .
- 2. If the meeting is successful, we will become the biggest car manufacturers in the country
- 3. His parents will be very happy if he passes the aptitude exam.
- 4. Sara will marry Bader if he graduates and get his first salary .

Second Conditional (Unreal)

Use

The second conditional is used for unreal (impossible or improbable) situations. This conditional provides an imaginary result for a given situation.

Form

If + Past Simple, Would + Verb (infinitive) Would + Verb (infinitive) + If + Past Simple (without comma)

Examples

- 1. If I won a million , I would buy a new villa.
- 2. If they were happy, they would have more fun.
- 3. If he worked hard, he would get a promotion .
- 4. If he had free time , he would join a sport club .

Third Conditional (past)

Use

The third conditional is used to express a hypothetical result to a past given situation. It's often referred to as the "past" conditional because it concerns only past situations with hypothetical results

Forme

If + Past perfect (had + past participle) , Would + have + past participle Would + have + past participle + If + Past perfect (had + past participle) (without comma)

Examples

- 1. If you hadn't shouted at the police man, he wouldn't have given you a fine.
- 2. If we had bought that car, we would have had to change the engine .
- 3. If you had set the alarm, I would have got up earlier.
