An old king decided to give a precious reward to the person who had served his country most. Many people went to the king's palace to watch that day. Hundreds of people joined the competition. They showed the king many amazing things . People liked the idea of rewarding good men and loved the king for doing that. Some people brought the king valuable gifts, boxes of jewellery and Arab horses.

Three men reached the final stage of the competition. The first man was a skillful doctor, the second was a successful teacher and the third a great scientist who had useful discoveries. The three men served their country. While the king was thinking about which of them to get the reward, a woman came near to him. He asked her kindly, "Have you got anything to show us?" She answered, "No, but these men are my sons and I have come to see who will win the reward." The king, at once, called out, "Give the reward to this great lady who has given birth to these great men!" It was a beautiful big red diamond. "A mother can also serve and care about her own country by raising good children! "
