Read the following passage , then answer the questions :

Louis Braille was born in 1809 at a village in France. When he was only three years old, he had an accident while he was playing in his father's shop and became blind. His father tried to teach poor Louis how to read but he couldn't. But his blindness was not an obstacle .

Young Louis was very smart. He was also very good at music. Braille was able to master his disability . He excelled in his education . Louis' teacher used to encourage him . He helped him to join a scholarship at France's Royal Institute for Blind Youth. At that time, the blind were trying to read and write in different ways but it was very difficult for them. When Louis was sixteen years old, he had the idea of using dots, so he invented this kind of reading and writing by touching dots with the fingers. He presented his work to one his closest friends for the first time in 1824.

This is really the same way the blind use today. In 1828 Louis worked as a teacher for the blind. He died in January 1852 at the age of forty three. Nowadays, millions of blind people can read Braille in many languages. The blind can read in Arabic, too. His system remains known worldwide simply as braille.
