*Read the following passage then answer the questions below:

John Smith is the happiest person in Britain this year. He lives in Surrey, in the south of England, but not in London. He owns a comfortable detached house and has two children. He works in an office in London. After a hard day at work, he relaxes in front of the television or watches a video. He doesn't go out every evening, but two evenings a week he meets friends in the park. He owns a pet, usually a dog, and takes it for a walk every day after work. He spends on average £120 per week.

At the weekend, he regularly eats in restaurants, goes to see shows, and plays a sport usually golf. Most weekends he puts on a pair of old blue jeans and works in the garden. He usually goes on holiday abroad more than once a year. His wife is pleased, too. She runs the home and has a job, but she doesn't earn as much as her husband.
